Ennyman's Territory: The Miracle of Dialogue

Most "communication" is a monologue, but in an everyday way, there is a great miracle when dialogue emerges. Dialogue is the "secret" incarnation of words into action. The author says: "This, then, is the purpose of dialogue: the calling forth of persons in order that they may be reunited with one another, know the truth, and love God, man, and themselves.

The miracle of dialogue (Book, 1963) [WorldCat.org]

The miracle is that dialogue can also be healing. Perfection is not required to enter the dialogue, but the acceptance of what is actual is. Acceptance of what is allows us to be transformed without fear of being lost. We discover that the opposite occurs: we become ever more profound embodiments of who we actually are.
