Photography, unlike video, can focus - isolate attention. Photography suspends time, as if it's discrete. Video can do tricks with time, but must work in a time-sense, as if continuous. Sound in video can make the mind and heart do battle. With photography you must respect so many elements that will vie for a viewer's attention.

Introduction to Photography.

Photography is the process of recording visual images by capturing light rays on a light-sensitive recording medium (e.g. film or digital CCD). It can be thought of as two pursuits:
